

THE NEWS IN OGDEN.

Doings of a Day in the Junction City.

LATE REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

After the Water Stealers—The Knights at Syracuse—The Street Car Subsidy—General and Personal.

SALT LAKE HERALD BUREAU,
No. 243, WASHINGTON AVENUE,
OGDEN, July 1, 1889.

The Junction City has resumed her usual complacency.

"Down with the dust," is the unvarying cry on the streets.

As usual after a holiday, dollars and dimes are not too plentiful.

The ball at Lester park on the Fourth was well attended; but wasn't it hot?

"Any knife on the board for 25 cents." Certainly they would be cheap at half the price.

People who are using the city water illegally ought to "draw it mild," the authorities are in earnest.

The election of trustees for the different school districts in Weber county will take place on Monday next.

The Ogden and Deseret (baseballists), owing to the heat, could not proceed with their match yesterday.

Ford's orchestra supplied the music at Syracuse for the Knights of Pythias picnic, and a gay old time was the consequence.

The last day of the present month has been fixed on for the opening of the new depot, under the auspices of the Ogden Chamber of Commerce.

The civil engineers, Mills, Rogers and Smith are in Ogden. It is said they will join the engineering staff under Mr. Banister, manager of the Pacific Short Line.

Some five balloons were sent up from Clark & Shaw's store on the evening of the Fourth, which had a very pretty effect as they sailed in the direction of North Ogden.

The streets of the city assumed a more lively appearance in the evening of Independence day, as each returning train deposited its contents of returning pleasure seekers.

In the window of Peck's drug store is to be seen a picture of the new Methodist church, by Mr. Cloughery. It is a first-class delineation, and is creditable alike to both architect and delineator.

The circus has a done good business, but complaints are heard that the last performance was cut short.

Indeed it may be said that faith was not kept with the public, who are never in a hurry to forget such paltry conduct.

To-morrow (Sunday) an interesting ceremony will take place at the Fifth ward meetinghouse—namely, dedicatory services, the ward having succeeded in erecting a beautiful place of worship at a cost of $12,000. The proceedings will commence at 11 a.m.

A horse and buggy passing round the corner of Twenty-fifth street yesterday afternoon were brought to a stop by the animal suddenly assuming and eventually rolling over. The shafts of the buggy were smashed, but the occupant, a lady, except the fright, fortunately escaped little the worse for the mishap.

Programmes are now flying around for the second Ward Dramatic Association's performance on Pioneer Day, in the Union Opera House. The piece to be produced is "Nita's First," a farcical comedy in three acts. This company of amateur comedians has won praise for its executive ability, and there is no doubt the question: "Whose is it?" Where is it? and what is it?" will be solved at the forthcoming performance.

Amusing.

Hardly a day passes that delay is not caused by the street cars running off the track. Yesterday was no exception to the rule. Just south of Twenty-eighth street on Washington avenue is a switch or double line of rails, laid down for the purpose of allowing the down and up cars to pass each other. By some means the car running towards the south left the track, about noon yesterday, the consequence being that the street was blocked for over half an hour, during which a number of passengers, many of whom alighted and finished their journey on foot. Cannot this be remedied? It is, to say the least, annoying.

Holy Bonds.

On Wednesday evening the K. of P. hall was the centre of attraction for a large number of people, the occasion being the marriage of Mr. Ed. W. Exum and Miss Mollie Phelan.

The hall was magnificently decorated with flowers, and Ford's string band furnished the music.

Judge Henderson performed the ceremony, which occupied but a brief period of time, followed by greetings, congratulations and congratulations, and then the guests strolled into the dining room, where sumptuous laid-out tables greeted the vision.

The good things were daily discussed, appropriate toasts were given out, the "why" was excellent, the music delightful and the whole affair was as delightfully pleasant as the heart of man or woman could wish.

The happy couple left Ogden on the Fourth for San Francisco, and intend visiting Oregon, Washington territory, the National park and other places of interest.
